Fiscal Detail and Notes

If approved by the voters, the reduction in the number of Legislators, 35 fewer, would result in future cost savings to the Legislature beginning in fiscal year 2018-19. The projected future cost savings to the Legislature in fiscal year 2018-19, a First Regular Session, are estimated to be approximately $5,270,300, which includes elimination of staff for the Senate. In fiscal year 2019-20, the Second Regular Session, the projected future cost savings are estimated to be approximately $5,240,600. These savings estimates could increase or decrease depending on certain policy decisions that will need to be made, such as the total number of positions needed to support the Unicameral Legislature, the number of committees that will be established and any changes in process. Some of these savings may also be reduced by one-time renovation costs depending on future decisions for the use of the vacated Senate Chamber.

The amount of payments made through the Maine Clean Election Fund would be reduced beginning in fiscal year 2017-18. The amount of savings which could be realized is estimated to be $1,700,000 for the 2018 election cycle. With fewer candidates, the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices assumes it will not need to hire a Planning and Research Assistant for the 2018 election cycle, which would provide additional Other Special Revenue Funds savings of approximately $31,000.

Other Special Revenue Funds revenue would also be reduced by an estimated $66,000 in fiscal year 2017-18 due to fewer candidates and the related qualifying contributions.
