Bill "An Act To Ensure Water Equity and Accountability for the People of the State"

H.P. 1076 L.D. 1474

REVEREND LONGSDORF: Please join me in a word of prayer in whatever manner is most at home for you. Sacred One, Holy Many, we gather today from different sacred and secular perspectives for a moment of centering and instance of reflection and a breath of connection before the day's legislation begins. As we inhale may we remember all those who formed us and called us to this vocation: our families who love us and support us and listen as we sift through complex decisions, our teachers and mentors who showed us how to be and become all the good things we are capable of, our colleagues who push us to think harder and dig deeper for the causes we care about, and our communities that look towards us for guidance, support, and advocacy. As we exhale may we ask for what is needed to do this work well: for compassion in our hearing and understanding, for warmth and passion in our speaking, for attentiveness to emotions and relationships in the room, for vigilance in our efforts to bring forth justice, and for kindness in our caring for the issues at hand. May we, with each breath in this Chamber, be reminded of something bigger than us, be reminded of what roots us to purpose and meaning, as we work together today. In the name of all that is holy, may it be so. Amen.

Committee on ENERGY, UTILITIES AND TECHNOLOGY suggested and ordered printed.

Comes from the House, REFERRED to the Committee on ENVIRONMENT AND NATURAL RESOURCES.

On motion by Senator LIBBY of Androscoggin, REFERRED to the Committee on ENVIRONMENT AND NATURAL RESOURCES and ordered printed, in concurrence.

ORDERS

Joint Order

Expression of Legislative Sentiment recognizing:

The Honorable Betheda G. Edmonds, of Freeport, former member of the Maine State Senate and two-term Senate President, who has been named Freeport Citizen of the Year for substantively contributing to the quality of the town, the well-being of the citizens and the reputation of Freeport and for causing a measurable improvement in the circumstances of a significant number of townspeople. We extend our congratulations and best wishes;

SLS 96

Sponsored by Senator CARSON of Cumberland.
Cosponsored by Representatives: BRENNAN of Portland,
Speaker GIDEON of Freeport.

The Joint Order was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Carson.

Senator CARSON: Thank you, Mr. President. I rise to speak briefly in support of this legislative sentiment and on behalf of my friend, constituent, colleague, and former President of this Body, Beth Edmonds. I would like to read the Freeport Citizens Resolution by which she was named Citizen of the Year.

'Beth Edmonds has lived in Freeport with her husband, Dan, since 1980. From that time forward Beth has continually shown her commitment to the wellbeing and improvement of the town and its citizens. Her activism has ranged from volunteering at the Bartol Library beginning in 1982 to serving as the Maine Senate President for two terms in the 2000's. While she worked at the State level she always kept closely rooted to her hometown. That local connection helped her apply what she knew was right for her neighbors, as well as for the people throughout the state. Although Beth is modest, this is continuing the honor she received in Freeport, 'about her public service and about her role as Senate President, she recognized the magnitude of the position she has held. She stated that the role of Senate President is, 'A balancing act. You have to listen to everyone equally while remaining true to your core values.' She has carried that philosophy close to her heart in all her endeavors. Beth's integrity and unwavering commitment to the people of Freeport and Maine has made her a leader and an exemplary role model. She has acted as a mentor for many women, successfully encouraging them to become influential members of the community.'

Just a footnote, I was present at the Freeport Town Council and a gathering of Freeport residents when Beth received the honor of being named Freeport Citizen of the Year and there were at least a half-a-dozen young women in the room, some of whom were Town Councilors, other who had become business leaders, other of whom had been active in the community, and each of them stood and said that, as a teenager, they always knew there was somebody that they could talk to when there were family difficulties or anything else was going on where they really needed someone who would listen and support them and many had actually spoken and confided in Beth Edmonds. She is truly an extraordinary person and a great leader and someone of whom all of us in this Body and in the state of Maine can be justifiably proud. We salute you. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Piscataquis, Senator Davis.

Senator DAVIS: Thank you, Mr. President. I served as a Republican Floor Leader when President Edmonds was the leader and I've got to tell you it was one of the best times that I spent here in this Body, even though we hadn't agreed on anything. Her personality and how she reached out clearly showed what a great leader, as my good friend, Senator Carson, just said, she is. She absolutely is. It was my last term in the Senate that time around and we had just come off a very contentious session, and that is an understatement to describe it. She, President Edmonds, was exactly what we needed. She reached out to me. We had dinner every week on Wednesday and she was so good at it, Mr. President, there were times when I paid. I couldn't be happier to stand and give a tribute to somebody. She's a dear friend and I'm very, very happy for her. Congratulations. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Lincoln, Senator Dow.

Senator DOW: Thank you, Mr. President. I haven't had the opportunity to know Senate President Beth Edmonds as long as some of you have but I just want to report my experiences as a freshman legislator. Back in the days when we came in as a freshman and we actually thought that you were supposed to listen to the speeches and then determine how you were going to vote. You talk about wet behind the ears. Everybody is when they come in for the first time. I had the honor of a gift from Senate President Edmonds. I was speaking on the Equal Rights Amendment and I sat over in this section over here and a reporter from the Kennebec Journal got around and took a picture of me so that Abraham Lincoln was in the background. Our good Senate President Edmonds got ahold of the original copy of that and put it in a frame. All framed up. Not just a little picture, all framed up. Wonderfully done. She and the Secretary of the Senate gave that to me as a gift. I proudly display that picture and it's on my father's Senate desk, which I have because they redid the Senate a couple of times and they gave the Senate desks to the Senator that was here last before they redid it. So that Senate desk sits in the entrance to my house and that picture is proudly displayed on it, and so when I walk in I have a chance to think about my days as a freshman Senator and my father all at the same time, and thanks for the gift from a former Senate President Beth Edmonds. I thank you very much for that kindness.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Diamond.

Senator DIAMOND: Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I, too, had an opportunity to serve with President Edmonds in the 122nd and 123rd, and I had just come back from a hiatus of several years out of here. Senator Davis mentioned about her ability to bring people across the aisle to at least talk, which she did. But I would suggest maybe the biggest fighting she had to deal with was within our caucus and she was excellent as smoothing those waters, brought everybody back together, and did some things, we got some things done as a result of that. So I just wanted to stand and congratulate her and say she was an excellent President of the Senate, had all the skills, and I'm so glad that she's being recognized today. Thank you, Mr. President.

The Joint Order was PASSED.

Sent down for concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair would like to recognize in the rear of the Chamber the very Honorable, amazing person, my first Senate Chair of Labor, the Honorable Beth Edmonds. Would she please rise and accept the greetings of the Maine State Senate. We definitely look forward to having President Edmonds here on Welcome Back Day, standing back up at her old rostrum.

Out of order and under suspension of the Rules, the Chair laid before the Senate the following Tabled and Later Assigned (3/14/19) matter:

JOINT ORDER - Expression of Legislative Sentiment recognizing Michael J. Tarpinian of Westbrook, who is retiring as President and Chief Executive Officer of The Opportunity Alliance, the Community Action Agency for Cumberland County, after over 40 years of public service working on behalf of children, youth, adults and families. Mr. Tarpinian oversaw the merger of Youth Alternatives Ingraham and People's Regional Opportunity Program to create The Opportunity Alliance, worked for many years at the State's Bureau of Mental Retardation and served on many committees and task forces. We extend our congratulations and best wishes;

Tabled - March 14, 2019 by Senator LIBBY of Androscoggin

Pending - PASSAGE

The Joint Order was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Breen.

Senator BREEN: Mr. President, men and women of the Senate, it's a bittersweet honor today to recognize the retirement of Mike Tarpinian, President and CEO of the Opportunity Alliance, the Community Action Agency for Cumberland County, and to celebrate Mike's 40 years working on behalf of Maine children, youth, adults, and families. Mike started his career as a caseworker in the Maine Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, which is now known as Developmental Disabilities. After ten years there he was hired as Executive Director at a community organization serving at-risk youth and their families. Over the next 30 years Mike served in executive positions in numerous social service organizations, leading several significant mergers that resulted in lower administrative costs and more direct services to clients. This is why Maine Biz Magazine named him Non-Profit Leader of the Year in 2012. Mike is credited with expanding the Opportunity Alliance's services to benefit Cumberland County's most vulnerable and resilient population through heating assistance, summer food programs for kids, mental health services, early childhood programs, and more. Opportunity Alliance also staffs Maine's statewide 2-1-1 service, providing 25,000 referrals to local programs every year, and it operates our statewide mental health crisis line. Under Mike's leadership all are welcome. Opportunity Alliance has a 'no wrong door' approach to access its services and it often meets clients in their own homes and communities if that's what works for the clients. Mike is co-founder of the Maine Behavioral Health Collaborative, a statewide association working together for child welfare and behavioral health for adults and children in Maine. He also serves, or has served, on the boards of the Child Welfare League of America, the Maine Equal Justice Partners, the Maine Community Action Association, the Greater Portland Addiction Collaborative, and Portland's Homeless Prevention Taskforce, among many other committees and taskforces aimed at improving Mainer's quality of life. As Mike exits the Maine stage he leaves quite a legacy. One of his daughters is a social worker at Maine Medical Center, the other works at Long Creek Youth Development Center. His successor at the Opportunity Alliance, Joe Everett, is someone Mike has mentored for many years. Lastly, during my 20 years in Maine Mike has become one of my personal heroes as well as beloved constituent. Since our professional and personal paths have crossed I've grown to admire Mike's courage, his compassion, and his perseverance, and I'll always be inspired by his lifelong commitment to serving our families and neighbors with humility, dignity, and grace. Thank you, Mr. President.

The Joint Order was PASSED.

Sent down for concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair is pleased to recognize in the rear of the Chamber Michael and Nancy Tarpinian and board members and staff of the Opportunity Alliance. They are all from Westbrook and they are the guests today of the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Breen. Would they please rise and accept the greetings of the Maine State Senate.

Joint Resolutions

On motion by Senator CARSON of Cumberland (Cosponsored by Speaker GIDEON of Freeport and Senators: CHENETTE of York, FOLEY of York, President JACKSON of Aroostook, MOORE of Washington, VITELLI of Sagadahoc, Representatives: CAMPBELL of Orrington, COREY of Windham, TUCKER of Brunswick) (Approved for introduction by a majority of the Legislative Council pursuant to Joint Rule 214.), the following Joint Resolution:

JOINT RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES TO EXPRESS THE STATE'S OPPOSITION TO THE UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY'S REVISED SUPPLEMENTAL COST FINDING FOR THE MERCURY AND AIR TOXICS STANDARDS

WE, your Memorialists, the Members of the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Legislature of the State of Maine now assembled in the First Regular Session, most respectfully present and petition the President of the United States as follows:

WHEREAS, under the United States Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990, the United States Environmental Protection Agency finalized the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards to protect air quality and promote public health by reducing emissions of hazardous air pollutants from coal-fired and oil-fired power plants; and

WHEREAS, coal-fired power plants represent the largest source of mercury in the United States and were responsible for nearly half of all mercury emissions in 2015; and

WHEREAS, mercury, once released into the environment, can become methylmercury, which accumulates in living tissue and causes serious health effects, including neurological and reproductive disorders in humans and wildlife; and

WHEREAS, coal-fired and oil-fired power plants emit significant amounts of toxic metal particles, including arsenic, beryllium, chromium, cadmium, lead and nickel; and

WHEREAS, coal-fired and oil-fired power plants emit large amounts of acid gases and organic pollutants that are listed as hazardous air pollutants under the United States Clean Air Act; and

WHEREAS, mercury levels in Maine fish, loons and eagles are among the highest in North America, leading to a statewide advisory regarding mercury and fish consumption that has remained in effect since 1994; and

WHEREAS, our communities, businesses and industries depend on clean air and a healthy environment for the benefit of current and future residents, property owners and visitors; and

WHEREAS, in Maine, commercial fishing contributed over $500 million to the State's economy in 2017; and

WHEREAS, pollution from coal-fired and oil-fired power plants threatens the quality of life and the livelihoods of Maine citizens, important Maine industries, such as commercial and recreational fishing and tourism, and small businesses that rely on a clean and healthy environment; and

WHEREAS, hazardous pollution from coal-fired and oil-fired power plants can travel significant distances and across state borders; and

WHEREAS, the United States Environmental Protection Agency reports that between December 2014 and April 2016, the deadline to achieve compliance with the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards, coal-fired power plants in the United States made investments in control technologies and other related changes for over 112 gigawatts of capacity; and

WHEREAS, the United States Environmental Protection Agency states that the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards have already reduced mercury emissions from the power sector by 86%, acid gases by 96% and toxic metals by 81% and protected public health and the environment accordingly; and

WHEREAS, controlling and reducing emissions of all air pollutants from coal-fired and oil-fired power plants, including pollutants not directly regulated by the Mercury and Air Toxics

Standards but nevertheless reduced by the controls installed to implement the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards, is providing improvements in the quality of the air and environment, to the benefit of Maine citizens; and

WHEREAS, the United States Environmental Protection Agency issued a proposed revised Supplemental Cost Finding for the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards on December 27, 2018 that puts the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards in jeopardy; and WHEREAS, this resolution must be initiated before the 60-day period expires following publication of the proposal in the Federal Register in order that opposition to the proposal may be communicated to the United States Environmental Protection Agency forthwith; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That We, your Memorialists, on behalf of the people we represent, take this opportunity to respectfully request that the President of the United States direct the United States Environmental Protection Agency to withdraw the revised Supplemental Cost Finding for the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards; and be it further

RESOLVED: That suitable copies of this resolution, duly authenticated by the Secretary of State, be transmitted to the Honorable Donald John Trump, President of the United States, to the Administrator of the United States Environmental Protection Agency, Andrew Wheeler, and to the Assistant Administrator for the Office of Air and Radiation, William Wehrum.

The Joint Resolution was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Carson.

Senator CARSON: Thank you, Mr. President. Before us today is a Joint Resolution which I hope will be adopted in both Bodies, first in the Senate, and be sent down to the EPA Administrator, Mr. Wheeler, and to President Trump. I suspect that everyone in this Chamber understands the kind of threat that mercury poses to the health of our children, the health of everybody, our wildlife, our waters. I won't read the Resolution and I want to speak to you briefly. What has happened over the last roughly nine years is that EPA, pursuant to the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990, adopted mercury reduction and toxic air pollution reduction standards in a program in which the electric power industry in this country has invested an enormous amount of money and the yield has been extraordinary. Over 80% of mercury has been reduced from the emissions of power plants and equally large percentages of toxic air pollutants have been reduced. The investment has yielded results that are greater than even the scientists dare project and the cost was actually substantially lower than was originally estimated by the Environmental Protection Agency. We fast forward to 2018. A proposal was made at the EPA to weaken these regulations in products that we all use occasionally, to roll back these regulations and to make it easier going ahead in the future to set weaker standards that would not protect the health of our people, our wildlife, our land, and our water. It is my hope that you will all join with me today, that this Resolution be enacted under the hammer, and that we will send a strong and clear message down to Washington, where too often partisan politics can get in the way of environmental protection, and that we convey a message from the people of the state of Maine that we want to see the current mercury and air toxic standards remain in place so that our people and our land will be protected. I thank you.

The Joint Resolution was ADOPTED.

Sent down for concurrence.

All matters thus acted upon were ordered sent down forthwith for concurrence.

On motion by Senator POULIOT of Kennebec (Cosponsored by Representative DOUDERA of Camden and Representatives: COSTAIN of Plymouth, HEAD of Bethel, MORRIS of Turner, WADSWORTH of Hiram) (Approved for introduction by a majority of the Legislative Council pursuant to Joint Rule 205.), the following Joint Resolution:

WHEREAS, real estate ownership is an investment in the future and one of the best ways to build financial security through equity accumulation and for many in Maine their home represents their life savings; and

JOINT RESOLUTION - Recognizing Maine's Realtors

Tabled - April 4, 2019, by Senator POULIOT of Kennebec

Pending - motion by same Senator to ADOPT

The Joint Resolution was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Pouliot.

Senator POULIOT: Thank you, Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, today is one of my favorite days because it's Realtor Rally Day. Two years ago for Christmas my wife got me a wonderful Christmas gift. It was these cufflinks. This one here says For Sale and this other one here says Sold. As a realtor I couldn't be more proud than to be able to wear these cufflinks today, Maine's Realtor Rally Day. As you heard in the announcement, the real estate industry accounts for $11.4 billion, or 18.4%, of Maine's GDP. I think that is an astoundingly significant number. I would encourage all of you to spend some time at lunch today to go and meet with your realtors from your districts. Many of them are here today to speak with you. They would love just a moment of your time and thank you for all supporting the real estate industry across our state. It is an integral part of Maine's economy. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Bellows.

Senator BELLOWS: Thank you, Mr. President. I rise in support of this Joint Resolution. The CEO of Maine Association of Realtors, Suzanne Guild, lives in my district and I have been so grateful to the Maine Association of Realtors for their collaboration on a number of issues, their dedication to private property rights, and the Constitution; to environmental stewardship, because they understand that protecting Maine's waters and lands improves homeownership values and the lives of our whole state; support for road maintenance agreements and student loan debt relief and communications infrastructure and it's just wonderful that my good colleague from Kennebec County is hosting them today and to be able to have those conversations and work in collaboration to move Maine forward and to recognize their contribution to our state's economy. Thank you.

The Joint Resolution was ADOPTED.

Sent down for concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair would like to recognize in the rear of the Chamber and up in the balcony members of the Maine Realtors. Would they please rise and accept the greetings of the Maine State Senate.

All matters thus acted upon were ordered sent down forthwith for concurrence.

The Chair laid before the Senate the following Tabled and Later Assigned (3/21/2019) matter:

HOUSE REPORTS - from the Committee on STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT on Bill "An Act To Change the Name of Columbus Day to Indigenous Peoples Day"

H.P. 142 L.D. 179

Majority - Ought to Pass (7 members)

Minority - Ought Not to Pass (5 members)

Tabled - March 21, 2019 by Senator VITELLI of Sagadahoc

Pending - motion by Senator CLAXTON of Androscoggin to ACCEPT the Majority OUGHT TO PASS Report, in concurrence

(In House, the Majority OUGHT TO PASS Report READ and ACCEPTED and the Bill PASSED TO BE ENGROSSED.)

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from York, Senator Deschambault.

Senator DESCHAMBAULT: Thank you, Mr. President. Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I stand to oppose the Ought To Pass motion. The title of the bill is 'An Act To Change The Name of Columbus Day to Indigenous Peoples Day'. However I do not oppose, in fact I applaud, similar ordinances passed in cities and towns in the state of Maine that have changed the National Columbus day, the holiday, in honoring Indigenous People's Day, and in Maine the towns are Belfast, Bangor, Bar Harbor, Brunswick, Gouldsboro, Portland, and Starks. But how did we get to this point of having a holiday called Columbus Day, which in part honors Italian Americans. Why this group? I want to say here that, as a member of the State and Local Government Committee, this bill came before us a couple of years ago and I voted against it. This year, when it came back, I said, 'I've got to educate myself' and I spent a whole Sunday afternoon, the only time I had off to myself, to just research briefly. It was quite interesting how Christopher Columbus Day came about. I kept turning pages and learning more. So I want to share this with you. According to articles I read, one explanation is that from 1880 to 1920 four million Italian immigrants came to the U.S. fleeing poverty. Not different to what's happening now. In America they encountered religious discrimination and a culture of anti-Italianism that viewed them as inferior and associated Italians with organized crime. I surely am not minimizing the horrors experienced by other nationalities or indigenous people during this period or even now. But let's stick with this group, Italians. A turning point of this discrimination against Italians was a most infamous crime in New Orleans in 1891 when Italian American men, 11 of them, were shot to death and mutilated by a mob. Soon after a New York news article appeared describing victims as desperate ruffians and murderer's, with little mention they were targeted because of their nationality. President Benjamin Harrison therefore in that year called that 1891 crime deplorable and on the 400th anniversary of Columbus' arrival to the Americas he designated Oct 21, 1892 as a general holiday, not a national holiday, and he described at that time Christopher Columbus as a pioneer of progress and enlightenment, not what we're talking about today but you've got to put yourself in that time. Fast forward this, however, to 1937. President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, after much lobbying by the Knights of Columbus, which is a Catholic fraternal organization, proclaimed Christopher Columbus Day a national holiday, 1937.

See what happens when legislators get involved in things. The debate over celebrating Columbus Day began decades ago, gaining steam in the 1990's in towns and cities like Boston, Denver, Philadelphia, Berkley, and other college towns. Now it gets even better. President Ronald Reagan and President George H.W. Bush designated American Indian Week as requested by Congress. In 1990 President George H.W. Bush also was the first President to proclaim the month of November Native American Heritage Month. Again, in 2005, his son, President George W. Bush, signed into law, legislation introduced by Democratic Congressman Joe Baca from California. He, George W. Bush, proclaimed the day after Thanksgiving as Native American Heritage Day. This didn't pick up any steam at all.

Why am I telling you this? Because you cannot legislate respect and honor. Five Presidents have tried and Congress has tried and it hasn't picked up steam. Currently four states celebrate Indigenous Day instead of Columbus Day; that's Alaska, Minnesota, Vermont. But in South Dakota they call it Native American Day. At least seven states don't recognize Columbus Day at all; again Alaska, Florida, Hawaii having their own indigenous people, Oregon, Minnesota, South Dakota, North Carolina, and Vermont don't recognize it.

I want to quote from testimony that was given to us in State and Local Government by members of the Midcoast Indigenous Awareness group, a group of people that wanted Indigenous Day and they have it in Brunswick. Quote: 'We want to share with you what has happened in our local community in the past few years. On September 18, 2017, the Brunswick Town Council passed a resolution proposed by MIAG,' their group, 'declaring the second Monday in October Indigenous People Day. In the months leading up to the name change and in the year and a half since, there have been many educational programs in the Brunswick area about Wabanaki people, local pre-colonial history, Indigenous cultures, and current challenges. Every presentation has been surprisingly well attended. More and more people are seeking knowledge and understanding.' Right here in Maine, under the Dome, in 2015 in Maine Public Law Chapter 19 established March 20 as Native American Heritage and Cultural Day. One phrase I have often heard repeatedly in State and Local when discussing bills is Home Rule. Therefore, what I do support is that this issue is best left to our cities and towns. Here in Maine we legislators have a chance to promote continued local discussion groups in schools, in churches, in libraries, and in town meetings such as has been held in the cities that I have mentioned before. This allows communities to proceed at their own pace and embrace a day honoring all Indigenous People. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Piscataquis, Senator Davis.

Senator DAVIS: Thank you, Mr. President. Colleagues in the Maine State Senate, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill and I only hope that, as my good friend was so eloquent, I can come close to the words she said. While proponents may see the passage of this legislation as a means of speaking out against Columbus and heinous acts and the terrible things that he did to people, I see this legislation a bit different and a little bit different than my colleague, although I agree with what she had to say this morning. I see this legislation as a way to try to rewrite history. Over the past few years we've seen more and more people often trying to take down monuments or change the names of holidays and even buildings. Sometimes it's because they dislike the people and, in years past, it has been so that we could have long weekends. Let's be clear, all of this does not change history. Rather than try to cover up what has happened in the past let's educate our children on the actions, both positive and negative, of those who have come before us and what has happened in the past. As we learn from our mistakes, and surely we should, we also need to learn from the mistakes of others and the mistakes of what has occurred. There are two sides, as we all know, to every story and I believe that we too quickly forget one side of history when we are so focused on another. While we speak out against the terrible things Christopher Columbus did please don't forget the hardships that the Italian-Americans went through when they immigrated to America. Columbus Day was named after those people as Columbus, himself, was Italian. If we want to create a separate day for the Indigenous People as my good friend has spoken about the months and the years and weeks and days that had been by local people, I agree with her. Right now, as she said, late September is there. The day after Thanksgiving is one of the days. Let's move it if need be, if there are problems with these days. By replacing a day for the explorer and the Italian-Americans who came here we're trying to take a part of the group's history and heritage away. I know we, as a society, all can do better working to educate our young people and our communities without trying to cover up what I believe is a cover up of history. Thank you very much, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Androscoggin, Senator Claxton.

Senator CLAXTON: Thank you, Mr. President. I rise in support of this motion. I congratulate the local communities for having some important, illuminating, conversations that they're having. If this was a bill to change Columbus Day to Italian-American Day I wouldn't be speaking in opposition to it but I'd be wondering why there wasn't a Scottish Day and a Franco-American Day and all the other various immigrant groups that have come to this country and why they aren't being recognized. As I was growing up I was raised on the myths of Columbus. I believed those and understood those to be the truth and as time has passed on I've continued to learn a bit about history. One of the most important lessons I've learned is that the victors write history. There are alternative stories, and they sometimes get lost, and I know the alternative stories are not without their own blemishes. I don't dispute that. But as I listened to testimony the perspective from a few decades later, a few hundred years later, led me to believe that we are not ignoring history but we're improving our perspective and our understanding of history by making such a change. The other reason I support this as it comes from a significant session in our committee, listening to how Native American people respond to this holiday. It may be uncomfortable to hear the stories about how devastating European conquest was to the cultures and how unsettling and disorienting it is now to celebrate a national holiday that honors an individual who was an important part of that destruction and devastation. My feeling is that for the Native Americans to see the rest of America celebrate a day that honors a man who contributed to the destruction of their community is not a fair choice and does not serve well the people that we need to be including in our communities. The myth, my final comment is that the myth of the man does not deserve its own national holiday. I respect what he did. I respect what he accomplished. He was given credit for more than he did accomplish. But I do not believe that he, as an individual, deserves a day of national or state holiday. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Washington, Senator Moore.

Senator MOORE: Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, in my testimony about changing the current Columbus Day holiday I asked the Committee to consider designating a separate holiday to honor the Indigenous People to compliment the national Native American Heritage Day. Honoring Indigenous People opens up the opportunities to learn about the people who inhabited this territory first, about their history and their current culture, their achievements, and their struggle as they work towards fair treatment and tribal sovereignty. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Bellows.

Senator BELLOWS: Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, outside this building I serve as the Executive Director of a the Holocaust and Human Rights Center of Maine and our mission is to inspire people to reflect and act to confront prejudice, intolerance, and discrimination in our communities. We work with children in schools and we work to try to help every child feel safe, welcome, and respected in school. It is in that spirit and in solidarity with Maine's Wabanaki nations that I share this statement from Penobscot Nation Tribal Ambassador, Maulian Dana. Ambassador Dana writes: 'The Penobscot Nation is one of five Wabanaki Indigenous Nations that span all corners of Maine. Our people have lived here for thousands of years and made countless contributions in both historical and modern contexts. Our stewardship of the lands and waters are part of what makes our state pristine and worthy of the name Vacation Land. We have humbly requested that these contributions be acknowledged and appreciated in a way that may seem symbolic but is very significant in correcting the narrative of history and validating truth and what is worth honoring. Replacing Columbus Day with Indigenous Peoples Day is a national movement that has occurred in upwards of 50 cities. A handful of states are considering it at the state level, with a few already making the change. Maine towns and cities have been moving in this direction as well, with Belfast, Orono, Starks, Gouldsboro, Portland, Bangor, Brunswick, and Bar Harbor all making change over the last few years. This is important because Christopher Columbus, while making an important impact on history, was also a war criminal and is the symbolic genesis of the idea that Indigenous People of the Americas were a savage and inferior race that should be exterminated in order for progress and colonization. Also he did not discover anything because there were people already here. He did not actually step foot in North America, so having a holiday that credits him with the founding of our country is not only outdated but deeply offensive and hurtful to the descendants of the Indigenous People that were targeted for systemic genocide not only in the settling of America but in the generations that followed threw attacks on our identity and culture. Native children being removed from families and placed in government-run boarding schools to 'kill the Indian to save the man' is another form of genocide. We are still living with the intergenerational trauma of the hundreds of years of assault on our numbers, resources, heritage, traditions, and the fact that a professional football team in our nation's capital calls themselves a mascot is a slur against our race. Celebrating a man that used unspeakably cruelty against Indigenous People and saw us as less than human sends a message to us that we are invisible and still inferior in our homeland. This is the change of a name of a holiday but it is so much more. Symbols, names, and what is validated by institutions and government are significant and have real impact because they shape the attitudes and behaviors of groups and society and can lead to inequality and racism. When a group is seen as less human than another group it becomes more acceptable to discriminate against them. We would never give Hitler a holiday but we all learn about him. The same theme should be taken with Columbus. I ask you to be good neighbors to the Indigenous Nations in your state and districts. I ask you to help us on our journey to healing. I ask you to celebrate the beauty and rich heritage we bring to Maine. I ask you to come to terms with the realities of history and not gloss over them to make them more palatable. I ask you to place the wellbeing of the Indigenous Nations over the need for the comfort of the colonizers that have written history. When we walk forward in truth and mutual respect the unity will make us all stronger and a better state and country.' Those are the words of Ambassador Dana, the Penobscot Nation Tribal Ambassador. I want to thank her for taking the time to write that statement and thank you all for listening.

Off Record Remarks

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Piscataquis, Senator Davis.

Senator DAVIS: Thank you, Mr. President. Mr. President, I stand up here today with a broken heart. I think of the young man that was killed in Bangor today, excuse me, yesterday. Police officers are a close-knit group. Those of us that have been through it and retired are even closer. When something like this happens, a tragic thing, we feel like we've lost one of our own, whether we knew them or not. He was one of ours and he died. He died doing what we all have done many, many, many times before, and that's to help, to stop and help a citizen that had a problem. Whoever it was, they were going down the road and they slid off the road and Detective Campbell stopped to help them. As I said, I'm sure he'd done that many times, as I have many, many times. I can tell you that old habits are hard to break, I still do it. Old habits are real hard to break. When he did this he paid for doing this kindness with his life. He's gone. Snuffed out at 31 years old. He leaves his wife, Hillary, and a six month old son, Everett. I can tell you honestly that but for God's grace there go I. There is no question. I'd like to read this poem, Mr. President, if I might. It says: 'I am the officer. I have been where you fear to be. I have seen what you fear to see. I have done what you fear to do. All these things I have done for you. I am the person you lean upon. The one you cast your scorn upon. The one you bring your troubles to. All these people I've been for you. The one you ask to stand apart. The one you feel should have no heart. The one you call the Officer in Blue, but I'm just a person just like you and through the years I've come to see that I'm not always what you ask of me. So take this badge, take this gun. Will you take it? Will anyone? When you watch a person die, when you hear a battered baby cry, and do you think that you can be all that you ask of me.' The author is unknown. Mr. President, I've never stood here and talked from my heart like I have today. I am so saddened this has happened and, Mr. President, when you adjourn the Senate today please do so in honor of Detective Benjamin Campbell. Thank you very much.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Bellows.

Senator BELLOWS: Thank you, Mr. President, I, too, rise with some grief. The Bangor Daily News published an article and I wanted to just quote. I've distributed it to everyone on their desks. I just want to quote the first sentence. 'Since January of 2017 at least 22 children between the ages of 20 days and 10 years old died after the State's Child Protective Services System received concerns about abuse or neglect involving their families.' That's since 2017, two years ago, 22 children. I share that. This is an article written in the Bangor Daily News. They did an information request to the Maine Department of Health and Human Services. This is data from the Maine Department of Health and Human Services because I had a constituent who had the courage to suggest this to the Government Oversight Committee and I want to thank my colleagues on Government Oversight and Health and Human Services, my colleagues on Judiciary, who are working on these issues that I think we really must approach these topics with urgency because that is simply unacceptable. Thank you.
