Senate called to order by President Pro Tem Troy D. Jackson of Aroostook County.

Prayer by Lynn Ascrizzi, Baha'i Community.

MS. ASCRIZZI: Thank you very much. Before I offer this prayer I'd like to give it a bit of historical context which has ties to Maine's history. In 1912 the author of the Baha Prayer for America that I'm about to read traveled to this country from the ancient city of Akka, today in Israel but once part of the vast Ottoman Empire. While here he visited Maine. His name was Abdu'l-Baha, a wise and humble teacher who, for 40 years, endured exile and extreme hardship while a religious prisoner of that Ottocratic regime. In 1908, when the Ottoman Empire was in a state of collapse, he was at last free to travel widely. An invitation to come to America was extended by a small group of admirers who sent him the means to buy a first class ticket on the maiden voyage of the Titanic. However, Abdu'l-Baha, who was called the Father to the Poor because of his deeds of generosity and self-sacrifice, politely returned the money for charity and instead sailed into New York Harbor via the steamship Cedric on a ticket he bought himself. He came to teach the principles of the oneness of humanity, the essential oneness of religion, the equality of men and women, world unity, and universal peace. "I found much love and justice within people of America," he said, "and I have observed much freedom of thought." With warmth and humor he told a New York reporter that he had found a keynote expression of American optimism. "It's in these two words, all right," he said. "Everywhere I go I hear those two magical words, words which I have never heard used in any other country. With you Americans it is always 'all right'. If I inquire as to the health of a person I have met here, he answers, 'All right'. When the conductor wants the train to start he shouts, 'All right'. Everything is all right in the United States. I believe the expression reflects the optimism of this great country." From New York he traveled to Boston and onto Eliot, Maine. Today that beautiful spot on the Piscataqua is the site of the Green Acre Baha'i School where, for more than a century, people of all races, religious backgrounds, and cultures have come here from across the world to seek inspiration. In 2012 Baha'i celebrated the 100th anniversary of Abdu'l-Baha's historic visit to America, a country that he said has a great spiritual destiny to fulfill in the establishment of world unity and peace. Here is his prayer for America.

O Thou kind Lord! This gathering is turning to Thee. These hearts are radiant with Thy love. These minds and spirits are exhilarated by the message of Thy glad-tidings. O God, let this American democracy become glorious in spiritual degrees even as it has aspired to material degrees, and render this just government victorious. Confirm this revered nation to upraise the standard of the oneness of humanity, to promulgate the Most

The 126th Legislature of the State of Maine
State House
Augusta, Maine

Dear Honorable Members of the 126th Legislature:

Under the authority vested in me by Article IV, Part Third, Section 2 of the Constitution of the State of Maine, I hereby veto LD 1254, "An Act To Increase Consumption of Maine Foods in All State Institutions."

Let there be no mistake – I believe that the goals of this bill are laudable ones. It seeks to support the sale of Maine products and produce by Maine farmers and fishermen. The way by which it seeks to achieve these goals, however, is misguided. The bill is an unfunded mandate on state government; it sets arbitrary standards that may be difficult or impossible for state agencies to meet and will lead to significant cost increases or disruption of core agency missions. Noteworthy is that State law already requires the State to purchase local food when practicable. The obstacles experienced by the State to date in achieving that outcome have arisen when the quantity of food required is simply not available due to seasonality of crops, the food is not suitable for the purpose intended, or the food available is cost prohibitive from a State procurement standpoint. Despite these obstacles, State agencies continue to aim for the goal of expanded purchase of Maine-derived products but the bill goes too far in its implementation.

In addition, the bill is incongruent with the constitutional principle of separation of powers as the decision-making, management and purchase of food for prisoners is an executive function. To that end, I will be notifying all of my Commissioners that I do support purchase of Maine sourced foods and insist that they continue to do so when practicable, however, this mandate must not stand.

For these reasons, I return LD 1254 unsigned and vetoed. I strongly urge the Legislature to sustain it.

Sincerely,

S/Paul R. LePage
Governor

READ and ORDERED PLACED ON FILE.

H.P. 888 L.D. 1254

Comes from the House, 94 members having voted in the affirmative and 46 members having voted in the negative, the veto of the Governor was OVERRIDDEN and it was the vote of the House that the Bill become law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Katz.

Senator KATZ: Thank you Mr. President. I'd like to, even though I don't live in Kennebunk, congratulate the Kennebunk High School football team for winning the 2013 Western Maine Class B Championship. They had a heck of a team and an outstanding group of young men. I'd just like to add to the rest of the story in the sentiment if I could, Mr. President Pro Tem. I saw the Kennebunk high school team participate in probably the finest football game I've ever seen in the State Championship where they should be proud of their effort when they were beaten right at the end by the Cony High School Rams. It was just one of those games you'll never forget where you were at the time. The Kennebunk team had just terrific players and it was just an exciting game. The other thing I'd like to say is that I understand that Kennebunk, itself, is changing districts. I made a bet with my seatmate, the other Senator from York, Senator Collins, on the game and of course Cony won, so I won the bet. I'd just like to thank Senator Collins for the delicious bottle of wine. It's the best bottle of $2 wine I've ever had. Thank you.

PASSED.

Joint Resolutions

Joint Resolutions in Memoriam:

WHEREAS, the Legislature has learned with deep regret of the death of:

Charles John O'Leary, Jr., of Orono, retired past President of the Maine AFL-CIO. Mr. O'Leary was born in Bangor and was a 1955 graduate of John Bapst High School. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees in history and government from the University of Maine. He also received a Fulbright grant to study at the American University of Beirut in Lebanon. Mr. O'Leary began his career as a high school history teacher and then left education to join the War on Poverty. He ran worker-training programs for former welfare recipients and spearheaded the Augusta-Gardiner Community Action Program, which included coordinating some of the first Head Start Programs in Maine. In 1968, Mr. O'Leary joined the labor movement, leading a statewide job-training program for the Maine AFL-CIO. In 1972, he became director of the University of Maine's Bureau of Labor Education, and, in 1978, he was elected President of the Maine AFL-CIO, a position he held until his retirement in 1998. As President, Mr. O'Leary worked tirelessly for fair wages, health benefits and safe working conditions for all workers, whether in a union or not. He was recognized during his labor career for his leadership and for his fight to keep jobs in Maine. He served on many boards and commissions, including the National Advisory Committee on Continuing Education, appointed by President Jimmy Carter, and the Board of Trustees of the University of Maine, appointed by Governor John Baldacci. We recognize his long and dedicated career in the labor movement and his commitment to workers and the State. Mr. O'Leary will be greatly missed and long remembered by his loving wife, Pamela, his loving family and his many friends whose lives he touched;

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Penobscot, Senator Cain.

Senator CAIN: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, the state of Maine, in fact workers in the state of Maine, workers across this country, and working people across the entire globe owe a debt of gratitude to Chick O'Leary. Chick O'Leary, and you can read in the sentiment in the calendar, has been, for more than 45 years, not only a voice for working people but someone who made a difference in public policy, in public education, and in the lives of working families all across the state. Chick was a long-time President of the AFL-CIO and really was able to take his passion for working people to a new level through his work at the University of Maine at the Bureau of Labor Education. Many people in this room knew Chick for decades. I knew him for just the past decade. When I first became a candidate for office in 2004 in the town of Orono the first piece of advice I got was, "You'll have to go see Chick O'Leary". Like any good candidate, I went and knocked on his door. Chick and I talked and for the last 10 years I've always counted on him as a friend and as an advisor and as someone who could really put things into perspective. Chick's funeral last week was a well-attended event. It was really a glimpse, a snapshot, of political and labor history in Maine over the past 40 years. The themes that came through in that service were not just about Chick's passion, but about Chick's passion for labor, for his family, for education, and really for the state of Maine. I think the impact that he has had on thousands of people around the world will never be truly able to be measured because it is not just in the life that he lived and the projects that he worked on and the organizations that he led and changed and grew and developed, but in the relationships that he was able to maintain, that he was able to cultivate, inside this building and in small towns all across the state of Maine. It will be my pleasure to deliver the sentiment to his wife and to his daughters in the coming weeks on behalf of this Legislature. I thank you for the time.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from York, Senator Tuttle.

Senator TUTTLE: Thank you Mr. President. Men and women of the Senate, I've known Charlie O'Leary for over 30 years. As most of you know, I served 20 years on the Labor Committee and I chaired that committee for 10 years. What I always liked about Charlie was that he never forgot from where he came. He was always a barometer. If I messed up on the committee Charlie had a way of not mincing words and telling me so. I know Senator Patrick and I talked about some of the occasions over the years and Charlie you will be greatly missed. I think that Longfellow writes that, "Good men all remind us we can live our lives sublimed, departing we behind us footprints on the sands of time." Charlie did that for me and many other folks in the state. Rest in peace, my friend.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Oxford, Senator Patrick.

Senator PATRICK: Thank you Mr. President. Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, I, too, also rise in recognition of the life and the work of Charles O'Leary did on behalf of working men and women. I only started my relationship with Charlie in 1990, when I was the United Paperworkers International Union representative in Rumford, Local 900. As many people know my style, I know Charlie was a tough man, a hard fighter for what he believed in and we started off a little tenuous, at best, where we kind of minced words on my first phone call with him. I kind of realized, "Who is this guy?" I finally got to meet him and realized that he was a tough man, but he was a fair man. He was actually a good listener and then he kind of got his own way. He was very good at that. One thing that I liked about it was that, just as a local union President was one thing, but I got elevated by vote to be on the AFL-CIO Board for three years and really learned what the man was all about. The one thing that I can say that he'll be missed for and be remembered for is his lifelong pursuit for the betterment of all working men and women. That's the thing that I will always take with me mostly in my remembrance of Charles O'Leary is that he was a fighter for all working men and women. I pray that he rest in peace and his memory will be remembered for years and years to come. Thank you, Mr. President.

ADOPTED.
