Prayer by Reverend Scott W. Cousineau of First Parish Congregational Church.
REVEREND SCOTT COUSINEAU: Thank you, President Jackson. Thank you, Senators, for the invitation. Thank you to our honored guests. Let us be in the spirit of prayer. God of grace and God of glory, we come into your presence this morning as grateful people. We are grateful for the ways that you are made manifest in the world and in our lives. We are thankful for those who nurtured us, taught us, and inspired us. And we are thankful for the great beauty that surrounds us. We are thankful for all those who heard your call to love and serve their neighbors and answered that call. God, we thank you for creating us in your image and placing the spark of your holy spirit within us. Created in your image, our hearts beat in rhythm with your heart. Our spirits move in unison with your spirit. Your dream for the world is our calling and our guide. Oh, God, you desire that we live in community and harmony with you and with one another. You desire that we practice and follow the way of love. You desire compromise and cooperation over competition and conquest. You desire partnership and peace over division and hostility. Make your desires our desires. May your concerns be our concerns. God of immeasurable light, we ask your blessing upon this legislative body and the work that they have before them. Fill their hearts and their minds with your vision for how we are to live together. Be in their debates and their discussions. May they see your face in one another and in the faces of those who they represent. Let your light shine in them and through them and may we all walk and work and serve in your wonderful peace. We offer this prayer in your holy name. Amen.

ORDERS

Joint Orders

Expressions of Legislative Sentiment recognizing:

Cape Elizabeth Fire-Rescue, which responded to the mayday call of the Tara Lynn II during a storm. The Water Extrication Team was able to reach the boat and rescue the 4 people on board. We extend our appreciation and best wishes; SLS 1466

Sponsored by Senator CARNEY of Cumberland. Cosponsored by Representatives: KESSLER of South Portland, MILLETT of Cape Elizabeth.

The Joint Order was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Carney.

Senator CARNEY: Thank you, Mr. President, and Colleagues of the Senate. I just rise to call out the incredible accomplishments of the Cape Elizabeth Water Extrication Team. This is a group of community members who train year-round and serve to ensure that when people experience trouble on the seas in our community there are resources available to rescue them. And this particular sentiment recognizes the work of the Water Extrication Team on January 13th. On that day, the Coast Guard got a Mayday call at midnight. At 1:20 a.m., the Cape Elizabeth Water Extrication Team responded to the wreck of the Tara Lynn II. Rescuers saved four fishermen in incredibly high seas and arduous conditions in the middle of the night. The winds were gusting up to 50 miles an hour with six-foot waves within 300 feet offshore. There were three attempts to save those on the boat, and only ten seconds during those attempts to actually get the fishermen off the boat. Later that day, the Tara Lynn washed ashore at Trundy Point and stayed there, but fortunately, the four fishermen who were on that boat were rescued due to the heroism of Lieutenant Nate Perry and rescue swimmer Harun Laleli from the Cape Elizabeth Water Extrication Team. I just want us to all recognize their heroic efforts in saving these lives. Thank you.

The Joint Order was PASSED.

Sent down for concurrence.

Jared Mills, of Augusta, Chief of the Augusta Police Department, on his retirement after many years of service. Chief Mills began his service with the department as a police officer in 1998 and became chief in 2018. We extend our congratulations and best wishes;

SLS 1271

Sponsored by Senator POULIOT of Kennebec. Cosponsored by Representatives: BRIDGEO of Augusta, LAROCHELLE of Augusta.

The Joint Order was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Pouliot.

Senator POULIOT: Thank you, Mr. President. Good morning, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. It is my great honor to stand before you today to recognize a man who has gone above and beyond in protecting and attending to our community and region for the past 25 years. Jared Mills began his career as an officer for the Augusta Police Department all the way back in 1998 and has done nothing but serve our community with distinction since taking that first step. In his time with the department, he methodically climbed through the ranks, obtaining the role of detective, sergeant, and lieutenant. This eventually culminated in his promotion as police chief in 2018, where he was unanimously confirmed by the city council and served in that capacity until just recently stepping down with his retirement. In recent years, he coupled these duties in law enforcement with the role of assistant city manager in Augusta, where he earned the reputation of a highly respected municipal executive. And we sure hope to see him coming back around soon, but during this time, in these different capacities, he proved himself as an able and selfless public servant. And to round out his resume even further, Jared obtained a master's degree in public administration in 2017, helping to propel him toward a teaching position at the University of Maine at Augusta, where I've had the pleasure of visiting and speaking with his classes on state and local government on several occasions. I could not be more grateful to have individuals like Jared around to set such a sterling example and maintain a solid foundation for our community. And, Mr. President. I would be remiss if I failed to mention just how integral Jared's wonderful family has been in supporting his efforts every step of the way. His lovely wife, Vivian, who is here with him today, and two daughters, Jasmine and Jiselle, have kept him grounded through the many immense challenges he's had to navigate through his lengthy career. Jared is exceptionally lucky to have those three around him, and he has shown us in the community just how important it is to keep family first. Jared, we're thrilled that you were able to make it here today along with your brother, Steve, and mom, Tisha, and want to thank you for everything that you've done and will continue to do as you move forward to new ventures. God bless you and your family.

The Joint Order was PASSED.

Sent down for concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair is very pleased to recognize in the rear of the chamber Jared Mills, the recently retired Augusta Police Chief and District City Manager. He's from Augusta and joined buy his family. They are the guests today of the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Pouliot, and the entire Maine Senate. Would they all please rise and accept the greetings of the Maine Senate.

Off Record Remarks

Out of order and under suspension of the Rules, the Senate considered the following:

ORDERS

Joint Orders

Expressions of Legislative Sentiment recognizing:

Douglas Maifeld, of Rumford, a school resource officer with Regional School Unit 10, who received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Maine Association of Police for his over 30 years of dedication to the youth of Maine and nearly 35 years of service as a police officer in Maine. We extend our congratulations and best wishes:

SLS 1468

Sponsored by Senator KEIM of Oxford. Cosponsored by Representative: HENDERSON of Rumford. Donald Miller, of Woodstock, a sergeant with the Rumford Police Department, who received the Heroism Award from the Maine Association of Police. We extend our congratulations and best wishes; SLS 1469

Sponsored by Senator KEIM of Oxford. Cosponsored by Representative: ANDREWS of Paris.

The Joint Orders were READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Oxford, Senator Keim.

Senator KEIM: Thank you, Mr. President. It is our great privilege today to recognize two extraordinary law enforcement officials from the Rumford Police Department: Officer Douglas Maifeld and Sergeant Donald Miller. These two men were recently honored with awards from the Maine Association of Police for their exceptional work above and beyond the call of duty. At the annual Maine Association of Police banquet in late January, Officer Maifeld was given the Lifetime Achievement Award for his years of remarkable commitment, accomplishments, and dedication to the youth in our community. In January 2020, after more than 30 years as a patrol officer and sergeant. Officer Maifeld retired from the Rumford Police Department. During his long career, Officer Maifeld dedicated a substantial amount of time and energy to supporting and mentoring youth in the Rumford and the River Valley as a DARE instructor, child safety seat specialist, and enthusiastic supporter and participant in the Special Olympics program. Months after his retirement, the Rumford PD hired Officer Maifeld back. In the fall of 2020, he began his second career as a full-time school resource officer for RSU 10 schools in Rumford and Mexico. In this role, he handles all police matters and conducts investigations for incidents related to the schools. Beyond the schools. Officer Maifeld is well known for his steadfast passion to mentor the youth in the community, teaching the next generation important skills and healthy lifestyles so they will become good community citizens. Every summer, Officer Maifeld spends time at Camp POSTCARD, a camp run by Volunteers of America, which stands for Police Officers Striving to Create and Reinforce Dreams, providing hundreds of kids with the opportunity to experience camp. As mentioned, he is dedicated to his work with Special Olympics as well. Last summer, he proudly participated in the Maine Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics and served his community as a Guardian of the Flame torchbearer at Special Olympics world games in Berlin, Germany. Officer Maifeld is a treasure. He has a great working relationship with school faculty, staff, and he knows almost every student by name. No matter the time, you will find him in and out of schools at sporting events and other special functions. He is constantly giving his support to the staff and the students he serves. I have seen Officer Maifeld in action many times and can attest that over the years that he has built really strong relationships with our whole community. In a role that requires a special kind of person, Officer Maifeld exemplifies time and again exactly what a school resource officer should be. I want to thank him for his many years of steadfast service to the people of the River Valley. Another incredible law enforcement officer from my district, Sergeant Donald Miller, who is also here with us today, received the Heroism Award at the January banquet. Last October. Sergeant Miller intervened when an armed individual was inexplicitly stalking an innocent, random citizen and her infant child in Rumford. While Sergeant Miller was speaking with the terrified citizen and making arrangements to escort her and her child safely home, the armed suspect drove up to the scene, stopped in the middle of the street, and shined car headlights on them. Sergeant Miller's concern for the safety of the woman and the child, as well as the other officers now on the scene, grew when the suspect appeared to be incoherent. At the risk of placing themselves in danger, Sergeant Miller arranged a police cruiser to block the road, placing a physical barrier between the danger and the citizen and allowing them to escape. Sergeant Miller attempted to deescalate the suspect from behind limited cover, asking the suspect repeatedly to exit his vehicle. His efforts proved ineffective when the suspect threatened to kill the officers and attempted to shoot them, resulting in the police fatally shooting the suspect. For putting himself in grave danger to protect the lives of others, for his leadership and demonstration of bravery, the Maine Association of Police presented Sergeant Donald Miller with a Heroism Award. I want to thank Sergeant Miller for his incredible bravery and his service to the people of Rumford. We are blessed to have a courageous individual like him protecting our community. They are joined today by their chief, Tony Milligan. And in these troubling times, I also want to thank Chief Milligan for his leadership, and for all law enforcement, for their selfless service to all of the people of Maine. Thank you so much for joining me today in recognizing these amazing men.

The Joint Orders were PASSED.

Sent down for concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair is very pleased to recognize in the rear of the chamber Officer Douglas Maifield of Rumford, Sergeant Donald Miller and his wife Jamie Miller of Woodstock, and Rumford Police Chief Tony Milligan of Rumford. They are the guests today of the Senator from Oxford, Senator Keim, and the entire Maine Senate. Would they please rise and accept the congratulations and thanks of the Maine Senate.

Off Record Remarks

Ashton Leclerc, of Gorham, who received the George Vinall Trophy for his being the Class AA South Basketball Tournament's outstanding player-sportsman. We extend our congratulations and best wishes;

The Gorham High School Boys Basketball team, which won the Class AA South Championship. We extend our congratulations and best wishes;

SLS 1452

Sponsored by Senator BRENNER of Cumberland. Cosponsored by Representatives: BOYLE of Gorham, TERRY of Gorham.

The Joint Orders were READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Brenner.

Senator BRENNER: Thank you, Mr. President, Fellow Colleagues of the Senate. Eleven points, eight points away, five points away, three points away; all they needed was three points. For Ashton, this was simple enough. Earlier this year, he had broken the record for Gorham High School for the most threepointers in a single game. He's described, as my daughter would say, as a walking bucket. Ashton is averaging 21 points this season. His sharpshooting from three and dynamic offense led the Gorham Rams to a 16-2 season. So, what is three more points for Ashton Leclerc? On January 30, 2024, with 997 points already in the bank, Ashton rolled through two screens to let it fly from deep for his one thousandth career point. It is for this achievement that Ashton was deserving of the legislative sentiment. But that's not all Ashton has accomplished this season. The Gorham Rams outplayed many teams to get to the regional finals last weekend - though I feel a little bit apprehensive that the final pitted two of the finest high schools in the entire state for both the boys and the girls' regional finals, those being my two district high schools, Gorham and Scarborough - strong performances by Gabe Michaud, Jesse James, Jack Karlonas, and Caden Smith. But one Ram stood out amongst the rest. During the final, the prestigious Vinall Trophy for Outstanding Player and Sportsmanship was given to none other than Ashton. Ashton and the Rams also made history as this is the first AA championship trip ever for the Gorham boys basketball team. Ashton's athletic achievements go beyond the realm of sports and statistics. It is a testament to the countless hours of practice. early mornings and late nights, and his relentless pursuit of excellence. I ask that you all join me in congratulating and wishing him and his team all the best at the state championship basketball game this Saturday at the Cross Arena in Portland. And I'd be remiss not to also give a shoutout to the Gorham Ram girls basketball squad, who also made it on to the regional finals this weekend and will be in the state championship basketball game this Saturday as well. Three points turned into three words - Go Rams -- Let's Go Rams! Thank you.

The Joint Orders were PASSED.

Sent down for concurrence.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair is very pleased to recognize in the rear of the chamber Ashton Leclerc, senior of Gorham High School, Captain of the Gorham Boys Basketball Team of the town of Gorham. They are the guests today of the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Brenner, and the entire Maine Senate. Would the guest please rise and accept the greetings of the Maine Senate.

ORDERS

Joint Resolution

On motion by Senator BAILEY of York (Cosponsored by Representative O'NEIL of Saco and Representatives: COPELAND of Saco, GATTINE of Westbrook), the following Joint Resolution: S.P. 957

JOINT RESOLUTION DESIGNATING FEBRUARY 28, 2024 AS HYPERTROPHIC CARDIOMYOPATHY AWARENESS DAY

WHEREAS, hypertrophic cardiomyopathy is a chronic cardiac disease involving thickening of the heart muscle and can potentially lead to debilitating symptoms and serious complications, including heart failure, atrial fibrillation, stroke and, in rare cases, sudden cardiac death; and

WHEREAS, hypertrophic cardiomyopathy is the most common inheritable heart disease and can affect anyone regardless of age, gender or ethnicity, with a reported prevalence ranging from 1 in 200 to 1 in 500 in the general population; and

WHEREAS, an estimated 700,000 to 1,650,000 people in the United States have hypertrophic cardiomyopathy, yet 85% of them may remain undiagnosed; and

WHEREAS, hypertrophic cardiomyopathy shares symptoms, such as shortness of breath, chest pain, fatigue, palpitations and fainting, with other common cardiovascular and pulmonary diseases, making it difficult to distinguish hypertrophic cardiomyopathy from these other diseases; and

WHEREAS, the all-cause mortality risk is 3 to 4 times higher in persons with untreated hypertrophic cardiomyopathy than in the general population; and

WHEREAS, knowing a patient's medical history and any signs and symptoms of hypertrophic cardiomyopathy that the patient is experiencing is an important first step in accurately diagnosing hypertrophic cardiomyopathy; and

WHEREAS, a health care provider must conduct a thorough screening with cardiac health questions to help calculate a patient's risk of genetic and congenital cardiac disorders; and

WHEREAS, a health care provider may conduct several tests, including an echocardiogram, a cardiac magnetic resonance imaging test or genetic testing, to confirm a family history of hypertrophic cardiomyopathy and must examine the patient's heart to correctly diagnose hypertrophic cardiomyopathy; and

WHEREAS, following a diagnosis of hypertrophic cardiomyopathy, it is important for patients to work with their health care providers to learn more about the disease and understand different management options, including prescription medicines and surgical treatments; and

WHEREAS, the 4th Wednesday in February has been designated Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy Awareness Day by the Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy Association; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That We, the Members of the One Hundred and Thirty-first Legislature now assembled in the Second Regular Session, on behalf of the people we represent, take this opportunity to designate February 28, 2024 as Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy Awareness Day, to acknowledge the critical importance of hypertrophic cardiomyopathy awareness in improving cardiovascular health in the State and to express our support for raising awareness of undiagnosed and untreated hypertrophic cardiomyopathy as a serious public health issue and the need to seek appropriate care for patients suffering from hypertrophic cardiomyopathy.

The Joint Resolution was READ.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from York, Senator Bailey.

Senator BAILEY: Thank you, Mr. President, and thank you to the Secretary of the Senate. Hopefully you've said this term enough times that I can pronounce it accurately as well. Today, I rise to offer a few remarks on Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy Awareness Day, which is today, February 28, 2024. Before I begin, I want to thank my constituent, Joe Hanson of Saco, for bringing this important awareness campaign to my attention and for sharing his personal story with me. As the Senate Chair of the Health Coverage, Insurance, and Financial Services Committee, I'm very happy to raise awareness for HCM. Hypertrophic cardiomyopathy, or HCM, is a genetic disorder that occurs when the heart muscle thickens, making it harder to pump blood. As a result, people with HCM are at higher risk for developing heart failure and atrial fibrillation, which can lead to blood clots or stroke and sudden cardiac arrest or death. HCM is the most common genetic heart disease, with nearly one in every 250 people living with HCM. Studies have shown that patients from various populations and age groups have HCM, which affect people no matter their gender, ethnicity, age, or geographic location. Many people with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy often go undiagnosed because the symptoms aren't always immediately recognized as indicators of a cardiac condition. Often, the symptoms mimic symptoms of noncardiac-related diseases. The most common symptoms, as we heard, are shortness of breath, heart palpitations, and fatigue, meaning that many patients can be misdiagnosed with asthma, anxiety attacks, or panic attacks. Although it can be difficult to diagnose, genetic testing can help. Because HCM is a genetic disorder, it is important for parents, siblings, and children of HCM patients to be screened. Genetic testing can be done using saliva or blood samples to identify genetic mutations. Aside from genetic testing, electrocardiogram, cardiac MRI, stress echo, physical exams can help diagnose HCM in patients as well. Increased awareness of the disease, along with access to screening, are key steps to getting an early diagnosis and ensuring that patients receive proper treatment. Fortunately, once diagnosed, a range of treatment options are available to relieve symptoms and prevent sudden cardiac death in people with HCM. These options include anti-arrhythmics, antibiotics, beta blockers, blood thinners, calcium channel blockers, cardiac myosin inhibitors, and more. To learn more about HCM, I urge you to visit the 4hcm.org website, where you can connect with the Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy Association. Also, the advancedcardiohealth.org website, where you can connect with a partnership to advance cardiovascular health. Again, thank you to Joe Hanson for bringing this to my attention and raising awareness of this disease. Thank you.

Senator HARRINGTON of York moved to APPEAL the Ruling of the Chair.

On further motion by same Senator, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Carney.

Senator CARNEY: Thank you, Mr. President. Thank you, Colleagues of the Senate. I rise to speak about the differences between the matter before us, the LD on our calendar today, and the LD from the previous session. There is an important difference in the two legislative documents, and it relates to the scope of the application of the policy contained in the document. When and how a 72-hour waiting period applies or does not apply is really critical to evaluating this bill and deciding whether to cast a vote for or against that adoption. The prior LD lacked clarity on this very important point. It did not contain any description of whether it applies to correction officers, and that has been clarified in the new document, and then also the new legislative document replaces some very cumbersome and hard-tounderstand language pertaining to persons who desire to promote the public interest with a very clear definition that relates to persons who work as security guards. I think that the clarity in when and how the 72-hour waiting period applies is crucial to the bill. It's a really important difference, and I think it sets the two legislative documents apart, and I would ask that you uphold the ruling of the Senate President that the documents are different. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The pending question before the Senate is The Ruling of the Chair. A roll call has been ordered. Is the Senate ready for the question?

On motion by Senator HARRINGTON of York, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from York, Senator Harrington.

Senator HARRINGTON: Thank you. I believe given the fact that we heard LD 60 in the Criminal Justice Committee, I think we had the expertise handling this bill. Just nine short months ago, we voted on it in this Chamber, and I think at the very least we should put it to the appropriate committee. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Androscoggin, Senator Brakey.

Senator BRAKEY: Thank you, Mr. President. I'd like to echo the sentiments of my colleague from York County. While this body has ruled in agreement with the President that apparently these bills are substantially different enough to move forward - though some are in doubt - what is certainly true is that this exact topic was heard last year in the Criminal Justice Committee, and I'm not certain why the jurisdiction would change to the Judiciary Committee. If it is sent to the Judiciary Committee, as a member of that committee, I'll happily do my duty in terms of the public hearing and the work session on it, but I haven't heard a rationale for why within the bounds of the same Legislature, just separated by a different session, why this topic would move to a different committee of jurisdiction. And I suppose I'll ask a question through the Chair to anyone who'd like to answer it, what is the rationale for moving this topic from Criminal Justice and Public Safety to the Judiciary Committee?

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Carney.

Senator CARNEY: Thank you, Senate President. I rise to answer my good colleague from Androscoggin's question. There is currently a bill that has already been referred to the Judiciary Committee that addresses background checks, and it's very important for the 72-hour waiting period and the background check policies and the language in the legislation to be worked together because they have to kind of knit together, so to speak, and therefore it makes sense to include -- to refer both of them to the same committee. Thank you.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from York, Senator Harrington.

Senator HARRINGTON: I believe we just heard a wonderful rationale for why we should maybe explore the option of having a joint public hearing on this bill, as we discussed last week.

THE PRESIDENT: The pending question before the Senate is Reference to the Committee on Judiciary. A roll call has been ordered. Is the Senate ready for the question?

Reports READ.

On motion by Senator RAFFERTY of York, the Majority OUGHT TO PASS AS AMENDED

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Libby.

Senator LIBBY: Thank you, Mr. President, Men and Women of the Senate. I rise to support the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended Report, but I do want to point out a couple of things that concern me. In the bill, it talks about -- and this is the -- what's in front of you, the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended, it talks about Wabanaki studies may be taught as a component of other content areas as appropriate, including but not limited to content areas of English, language arts, mathematics, science, and fine arts. I have absolutely no problem with that - as somebody that's been in education for 40 years, I think it's high time that we worked on this - but I do have a problem with the process that I'm seeing along these same lines. And so, for example, we in the committee have been asked to look at the learning standards. And I guess what I can't understand is that in this amendment, we're talking about changes to science curriculum. Great. But in the rulemaking that the Department has brought us, they've already made 111 changes involving the insertion of the word Wabanaki, when there were zero back in 2019. That is supposed to be the job of the commission that we're putting together. So, my concern and complaint is directed toward the Department of Education. They have jumped the gun on these changes. They have employed some experts in making some of these changes, but we need time. Furthermore, the union has told us in a letter sent to all members of the Joint Standing Committee on Education and Cultural Affairs that we're not prepared in terms of training our teachers, we're not prepared to adopt these new rules. So, today, what we have in front of us authorizes those changes, yet they're kind of already out there, and I've got some strong, strong concerns about that. And I would ask the people on the other side of the aisle to help me rein in the Department a little bit on these issues. A couple of other things that really concern me and I want to make sure that everybody hears this correctly, because we seem to have lumped together Native American Studies, Wabanaki, and African American Studies. In the science standards that we have already looked at in our committee, in 2019, Wabanaki appeared in science standards, not the social studies standards. Wabanaki -- the word Wabanaki appeared zero times. Now, according to -- if we pass the rules, it would appear 63 times. Again, that's going to be -that should be the job of the commission and others that are assisting the commission and the money that we're putting into the commission is going to enable that. But here's one that just shocked me - imagine this - in 2019, the Maine learning standards for science mentioned the word African American zero times. Zero. And now, in 2024, it's mentioned once. Wabanaki 63, African American 1. This is the DOE, it's not us. It's our job to make sure that the Executive Branch doesn't go around wild on these things. And I brought this up in committee, and -- which is the reason I'm today going to support this motion, but you'll see on the committee report that I did not. I mean. I just throw my hands up in the air when I see this stuff. It's hard to believe. We need to do better. And I know my committee cares, and I know you care, and all I would ask is that you just please when you talk to people in the Executive Branch that you bring up these unbelievable inadequacies and the unfairness in reference between groups of people. It makes no sense to me. So, I will be supporting the motion, and thank you very much, Mr. President, for allowing me to speak.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Oxford, Senator Bennett.

Senator BENNETT: Thank you, Mr. President, Fellow Members of the Senate. I rise as a happy co-sponsor of this measure before you today. I testified before the public hearing and have to share a little history. In the late 1970s, my father, Dean Bennett, was the leader of a Maine studies curriculum project which set out social studies curricula for the entirety of the state of Maine, including his authorship of a book that some of you may have had in your middle school experience - back then, we called in junior high school - and it was a book called Dirigo. My father did something extraordinary at the time, which was he reached out to the Wabanaki community of people, and he invited them to participate in the writing of the textbook, and three chapters of that book actually relate to the Wabanaki's perspective on the history of Maine. For years, this book was used in middle schools, and it was -- I read it even today, actually, when we pick up Wabanaki issues before the Legislature, I reread sections of that textbook because in very simple form - it's written for eighth graders - it talks about the experience of the Wabanakis. And I commend it to you and would be happy to share copies of it with you, if anybody's interested. For years, this book was used in the public schools, for over ten years. These book have shelf lives, new curricula were written, etcetera. And so, then, 20 years later, there was a bill passed in this Legislature requiring the teaching of Wabanaki studies in our schools. And we all know from recent news reports that that somehow fell by the wayside. Here we are. another 20 years forward, so we're now 40 years in, and we have this measure before us, again requiring that Wabanaki studies be part of curricula in our schools. Perhaps with the advent of learning standards, our institutional memory will be a little bit better regarding the need to teach Wabanaki studies in our schools. But if the Legislature has to take it upon itself periodically every decade or two to make sure that the laws that we passed are followed and that the Wabanaki traditions and culture and history which is intertwined with the rest of us who inhabit this land we call Maine, then we'll just have to continue to do it. So, with this bill, I hope that we will once again remember our responsibilities and teach Wabanaki studies so that we'll all be better informed, our kids will be better informed about our heritage, and we will be following the laws that we've passed repeatedly in recent history. So, with that, I would encourage you to vote for the pending motion, and I thank you for your attention.

Senator LAFOUNTAIN of Kennebec moved the Senate ACCEPT the Majority OUGHT TO PASS AS AMENDED Report.

On further motion by same Senator, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Kennebec, Senator Hickman.

Senator HICKMAN: Thank you, Mr. President. Mr. President, Women and Men of the Senate, here in the great State of Maine, we know full well the importance of a healthy environment and especially the vital importance of clean, clear water. Maine people deserve to know that the water we drink is clean and that the shores of the lakes and rivers on which we build our homes are safe and healthy. When Eurasian milfoil -- watermilfoil was discovered in Cobbosseecontee Lake in the summer of 2021, members of the lake community knew they had to step up. A year later, the local grassroots efforts of the Cobbosseecontee Lake Association have seen tremendous results thanks to the swift action of lake residents, local businesses, and partner agencies, including the Friends of the Cobbossee Watershed, a nature conservancy focused on 27 bodies of water in and around the Winthrop lakes region. As the Senator representing southern Kennebec County and a former board member of the Annabessacook Lake Improvement Association, I want to take this opportunity to applaud them for a job well done. Left unaddressed, invasive aquatic plants like milfoil can choke a lake, destroying its ecosystem and the opportunities for us to all enjoy it. Eurasian watermilfoil is one of the most aggressive and fastspreading invasive plants infesting our lakes today all across the country. It forms dense mats on the water's surface and displaces native plants, having a devastating impact on fish and wildlife as well as our ability to swim, fish, paddleboat, and simply enjoy the lake. Property values on lakes infected by this milfoil have dropped. Local businesses have suffered. Mr. President, Women and Men of the Senate, let us remain vigilant and work together to keep all of Maine's lakes, ponds, rivers, and streams pristine for years to come. And so, Mr. Senate President, as the lead sponsor of this legislation here in this Chamber, let us not only vote to pass this necessary bill today, but let us fund it, enact it, and send it to the Governor's desk for her signature. The people of the State of Maine deserve nothing less. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Oxford, Senator Bennett.

Senator BENNETT: Thank you, Mr. President. I'll fill the gap. I want to rise in support of this measure. As a Senator who represents what is lovingly called the Lakes Region of Maine, although there are others, as the Senator from Kennebec may contest me on that, the lakes region that I represent in the Bridgton/Harrison area has some of the most beautiful lakes in our state, throughout Oxford County, throughout the interior side of Cumberland County. Invasive aquatic plants is an ongoing present danger not only for our environment but for our economy. People are spending so many volunteer hours, thousands of volunteer hours trying to clean up these invasive plants. And I've heard some disturbing words in discussing of this bill that well, we're going to lose the fight, so why are we ever engaged in it? We have to be engaged in this fight. We have made tremendous strides in engaging with this fight, and we've cleaned up some of our lakes. We have to remain vigilant. It will never end because this is the way invasive species work, but that doesn't mean that we can just give up. The people of my district depend on this ongoing effort. I don't know whether this amount of money is the right amount of money and whether we can find it within the resources that we have at this level, but we must support doing all we can as a state to support the efforts that countless people across the state have spent decades literally working on to protect our lakes from invasive aquatic species. So, I'm very much in support of the pending motion.

On motion by Senator TIPPING of Penobscot, supported by a Division of one-fifth of the members present and voting, a Roll Call was ordered.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Penobscot, Senator Tipping.

Senator TIPPING: Thank you, Mr. President. This bill builds on the work of the Senate as we unanimously banned noncompete clauses for veterinary practice last session. For those that may not remember the conversation, noncompete clauses prevent workers from working in their industry or starting their own business if they leave their job. It used to be only used for very highly paid positions, often in finance, on Wall Street, but over the last few years, it's become increasingly common for workers all over the place and in all kinds of jobs. It's now used far more broadly as a way of keeping workers without paying them more. About one-fifth of workers currently across the county have noncompete clauses, including folks like janitors and dog walkers. It's about 30% of people that earn around the equivalent of the minimum wage, or 30% of noncompetes apply to those folks. So, this would make sure that noncompetes are reasonably used, that they're not broader than necessary, and that they are simply used to protect trade secrets or in the case where it's a co-owner of a business. So, this is particularly important as inflation has made it more important for people to be able to have some flexibility to change jobs, to pursue new opportunities, and to make more money. It's important for workers in rural areas and it's important because we want people to be innovative and entrepreneurial. There was a commentary distributed here with an exuberant amount of punctuation that I just wanted to address briefly. The trade secrets provision is well defined, it is the same as used in the Uniform Trade Secrets Act, which it references, in Maine. It is broad, but it is clear, and it says simply that trade secret is information that derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to and not being readily ascertainable by proper means by other persons who can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use and is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy. That would apply to all of the bullets here. So, today, I'd like to ask this Chamber to protect Maine workers, to promote entrepreneurship and innovation, to allow for higher wages and better-fitting jobs for Mainers and allow more people to work more easily in rural Maine. Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Chipman.

Senator CHIPMAN: Thank you, Mr. President. Just very briefly, this bill is an issue of fairness, and I voted the way I did because there were several people in the state who purchased and were registered Mitsubishi Delica full-size vans in their towns and drove them around for some period of time and then the state sent them letters and revoked their registrations. And it really points to a larger issue of passenger vehicles that are manufactured for road use that aren't allowed to be used in Maine, and I won't get into the details on that, but I just think that more work needs to be done maybe in the next session to figure out some sort of solution for at least some kind of limited use on the roads by some of these vehicles. Thank you.

Off Record Remarks

THE PRESIDENT: The Chair recognizes the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Duson.

Senator DUSON: Thank you. With your kind -- thank you for your kind attention. What I hope to have conveyed during this month is that black history is American history. Today, the spotlight for Black History Month is a focused excerpt from the anthology Four Hundred Souls: A Community History of African Americans from 1619 to 2019. Its editors, Ibram Kendy and Keisha Blain, have assembled essays, short stories, poetry, and more, penned by over 90 writers, each of whom takes on a slice of that 400-year span. The following is an abbreviated reading from the first essay in that anthology, entitled The Arrival, authored by Nikole Hannah-Jones, the award-winning author of the 1619 Project. For tomorrow, I will offer an excerpt from the closing essay of that anthology, Conclusion, written by Keisha Blain, author of Set the World on Fire and co-author of the source anthology, Four Hundred Souls. Arrival. Four hundred years ago, in 1620, a cargo ship lowered its anchor on the eastern short of North America. It had spent 66 grueling days on the perilous Atlantic Ocean and its 102 passengers fell into praise as they spotted land for the first time in more than two months. These Puritans had fled England in search of religious freedom. We all know their names, their descendants proudly trace their lineage back to the group that established self-governance in the New World - that is, amongst the white population. The indigenous people were already governing themselves. They arrived on the Mayflower, a vessel that has been called one of the most important ships in American history. Every fall, regaled by stories of the courageous pilgrims, elementary school children whose skin is peach, tan, and chestnut, fashion black captain hats from paper to dress up like the passengers on the Mayflower. Our country wrapped a national holiday around the pilgrim's story, ensuring the Mayflower's mythical place in the American narrative. But a year before the Mayflower, in 1619, another ship dropped anchor on the eastern shore of North America. It's name was White Lion, and it, too, would become one of the most important ships in American history. And yet there is no ship manifest inscribed with the names of its passengers and its descendants society. These peoples arrival was deemed so insignificant, their humanity so inconsequential, that we do not know even how many of those packed onto the White Lion's hull came ashore, just that some 20-and-odd negros disembarked and joined the British colonists in Virginia. But in his sweeping history, Before the Mayflower, scholar Lerone Bennett, Jr. said of the White Lion, no one sensed how extraordinary she really was, but few ships before or since have unloaded a more momentous cargo. This cargo, this group of 20-30 Angolans, sold from the deck of the White Lion by criminal English marauders in exchange for food and supplies, was also foundational to the American society. But while every American child learns about the Mayflower, virtually no American child learns about the White Lion. And yet, the story of the White Lion is classically American. It is a harrowing tale. One filled with all the things that this country would rather not remember. A taint on a nation that believes above all else in its own exceptionality. The Adams and Eves of black America did not arrive here in search of freedom or a better life; they had been captured, stolen, forced onto a ship, shackled, writhing in filth as they suffered and starved. Some 40% of the Angolans who boarded that ghastly vessel did not make it across the middle passage. They embarked not as people but as property, sold to colonists who were just beginning to birth democracy for themselves, commencing a 400-year struggle between the two opposing ideas foundational to America. Black Americans, by definition, are an amalgamated people. Our bodies form the genetic code. We are African, Native, and European, that made America and Americans. We are the living manifestation of the physical, cultural, and ideological merger of the peoples who landed on those two ships but a year apart, and of those people who were already here at arrival. Despite the way we've been taught these histories, these stories do not march side by side or in parallel, but are inherently intertwined, inseparable. The time for subordinating one of these histories to another has long passed. We must remember the White Lion along with the Mayflower and the Powhattan along with the English and Jamestown. As the voice implores, nations reel and stagger on their way. They make hideous mistakes, they commit frightful wrongs, they do great and beautiful things. And shall we not best guide humanity by telling the truth about all this, so far as the truth is ascertainable. The true story of America begins in 1619. This is our story. We must not flinch. Thank you, Mr. President.

On motion by Senator VITELLI of Sagadahoc, ADJOURNED, until Thursday, February 29, 2024 at 10:00 in the morning.
